

Sports Illustrated

November 13, 1989

Volume 71, No. 20

CONTENTS

- BOFFO BUFFS! 20
Colorado's 27-21 defeat of Nebraska gave the Buffaloes a shot at winning their first national football title
by Austin Murphy
- SILENCE ROARS ONCE MORE 28
In their dramatic race for Horse of the Year, Sunday Silence outran Easy Goer in the Breeders' Cup Classic
by William Nack
- ONE ANGRY MAN 38
No. 1 heavyweight contender Evander Holyfield got mad, and then he got Alex Stewart with a TKO in Round 8
by Pat Putnam
- THE BIG, BAD BLUE BULLIES 42
Behind a behemoth offensive line, the Giants pounded the Cardinals with an offense of the future
by Paul Zimmerman
- BEYOND THE MELTING POT 46
Outrunning a cosmopolitan crowd, Tanzania's Juma Ikangaa won big in the New York City Marathon
by Merrell Noden
- 'THEY DON'T PAY . . . TO BE HUMBLE' 52
So says Deion Sanders, who has sparked the Atlanta Falcons with his gold chains and electrifying play
by Curry Kirkpatrick
- WHAT MAKES RON HEXTALL TICK 62
Though he goes off like a bomb at times, the Flyers' Ron Hextall is changing how NHL goalies do their job
by Jay Greenberg
- THOU SHALT NOT LOSE 82
At Jerry Falwell's Liberty U, everyone prays for the football team, whose goal is to take on Notre Dame
by Leigh Montville

DEPARTMENTS

- | | | | |
|----------------|----|-----------------------|----|
| Letters | 4 | College Football Week | 80 |
| Scorecard | 15 | For The Record | 95 |
| Pro Basketball | 72 | Point After | 96 |
| Inside The NFL | 74 | | |

Cover Photograph by Lee Crum

HAIL, BRITANNIA!

Six young onlookers watch with ladylike admiration as an unflagging competitor passes through Brooklyn during the early going in Sunday's New York City Marathon (page 46).